

One stable on a busy hill
with only ox and donkey 'til ...

Tap, tap. "Hello?" Two heads appear.

"The inn is full. Can we stay here?"

"Yes, of course!" squeak three small mice.

"It's rustic, but the view is nice."

As Mary walks across the straw,
she's filled with happy thanks and awe.
Joseph, too, is feeling blessed,
and grabs four bales so they can rest.

While Mary lights five lantern wicks,
the baby in her belly kicks,
reminding her she'll soon give birth
to the Savior of the Earth.

Six spiders dangle overhead,
as Joseph sets out figs and bread.
And as they eat and watch the moon,
the baby moves. He'll be here soon.
